

Source: anna.aero, 3 Apr 14

Regional Express adds 17th destination from Sydney

REX – Regional Express added its 17th route from Sydney (SYD) with the addition of 18 weekly flights to Armidale (ARM) on 28 March. The 381-kilometre sector to the administrative centre for the Northern Tablelands region will be operated utilising the airline's 34-seat Saab 340s and will face direct competition from Qantas' 31 weekly operations. Commenting on the route launch, John Sharp, Deputy Chairman, REX, said: "As Australia's most on-time regional airline we are delighted to be bringing to Armidale a reliable and competitive air service that the entire New England region can count on. Rex looks forward to building a strong partnership with the Armidale community to ensure we can continue to provide a sustainable air service for the long-term benefit of the Armidale region."

Approval to reproduce article given on 7 April 14