Regional Express (Rex) will continue to offer its cheaper “community fare” on flights between Esperance and Perth after finalising negotiations with the Shire of Esperance.

The community fare sits at $128.91, including tax, and is eligible when booking flights less than 24 hours in advance, or more than 60 days out for some flights.

During a confidential item at this week’s, shire council agreed to the three-year deal that would fix the amount of money Rex had to pay to Esperance Airport for each passenger who travels from Perth on a cheap flight.

A shire spokeswoman said the deal with Rex was great news for the community.

“It’s a win for locals, and it’s a win for tourism and tourists,” she said.
